A Message From SIFF Founder: MARIA CAPP

To say that dreams do come true feels like an understatement—standing here today is truly beyond my wildest dreams and beyond comprehension. Bringing this festival to the town that I love is a profound honor. It is an absolute joy to meet new filmmakers and creatives from our own backyard and from afar, while introducing my friends and colleagues from Los Angeles, San Francisco, Kentucky, Boston, NYC, and New Jersey so they can share their expertise with this community.

Throughout my career as a member of the Producers Guild of America and as a producer, director, and writer, I've had the privilege of working on incredible projects. But my greatest passion is bridging that Hollywood experience with my hometown. SIFF was created to be a driving force for economic development and a hands-on incubator for talent. In fact, this festival is our biggest annual fundraising event to provide vocational opportunities to local emerging filmmakers. Through this event and our comprehensive internship programs, we are actively building a creative infrastructure that provides tangible, on-the-job training for the next generation of storytellers, ensuring a sustainable ecosystem of talent for years to come.

This vision could never have come to life without a remarkable group of supporters. I am deeply and endlessly grateful to:

- Our incredible SIFF team: The volunteer staff and our Emerging Talent Interns. It truly takes a village! (Please refer to the list below to see the dedicated SIFF team who made this possible).
- My advisory board mentors: Especially Mario D'Amore, who lifted me with suggestions, connections, and faith every step of the way.
- The wonderful press and media outlets: Thank you for covering our festival and helping us share our story!
- Daria Yoder: Thank you for collaborating and for the endless hours you spent perfectly executing my vision, both visually and in words.
- Our industry professionals and brand partners: Thank you for generously donating the memberships, equipment, tools, and licenses that we are able to give away to our filmmakers today.
- Paul Sinacore, Mark Myers, and all my amazing colleagues: Thank you for your time, dedication, and invaluable support and wisdom.
- Our cornerstone partners: Sayville Ford, Five Towns College, SS Abstract, LI Home Properties, and May Day Productions, for your integration of brand while providing the fiscal means to sustain our creation and launch.
- Our amazing community: The Greater Chamber and all the local merchants and vendors who supported us. A special thank you to Butera's, Metro's, and Sayville Athletic for serving as our filmmaker mixers and filmmaker lounge.
- Our wonderful host venues: Devin and the amazing staff at the Sayville Movie Theater, as well as Marc and his incredible team at the CM Performing Arts Center—John McGuire, Brianna Hunter, Collin Kirdahy, Daria Yoder, Jason Sullivan, and John Silecchia.

To our amazing community and to the filmmakers: Thank you for trusting and joining me along this journey! I hope you fully immerse yourselves in this event. My deepest wish is that you come away from this festival with a few new friends, potential collaborators, and a clear path and understanding of what's next in your professional working journey as a filmmaker. And to the community—we hope you connect with each and every story and are as moved as our screening team was in selecting these special stories to bring to you!

Mission

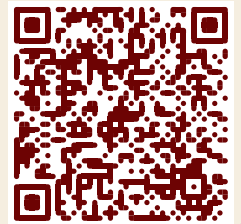

The Sayville International Film Festival (SIFF), a 501(c)(3) nonprofit, is a community-driven, industry-connected event by Cappricielli Productions. Our mission is to launch careers, foster social change, and build a sustainable creative ecosystem.

The Sayville International Film Festival is our biggest fundraising event!

We prioritize diverse, regional, and international voices; especially students, emerging, and underrepresented filmmakers, showcasing bold work and highlighting the unique culture of Long Island, NY.

SIFF bridges Hollywood and Sayville, NY, offering participants unparalleled resources and networking, leveraging our decade-long professional experience in film markets, sales, and independent production.

We offer a platform for all submissions, including released films seeking theatrical screening and distribution. Join us on the South Shore of Long Island, NY, to celebrate vision, stimulate regional economic growth, and work toward becoming an Academy Award and BAFTA qualifying festival.

Celebrating Our Honorees

August 16, 2026 at 3:00pm at CM Performing Arts Center

Paula Hart

Inaugural Recipient, The Vanguard
Legacy Award

Melissa Joan Hart

Inaugural Recipient, The Vanguard
Legacy Award

On August 16, the inaugural Sayville International Film Festival is proud to celebrate artists and storytellers whose work reflects the heart of SIFF: independent creativity, industry excellence, community connection and lasting cultural impact.

For our first festival year, SIFF will honor Sayville natives Paula Hart and Melissa Joan Hart of Hartbreak Films as the inaugural recipients of The Vanguard Legacy Award. Their careers reflect the bridge SIFF is building between Long Island, Hollywood and the next generation of filmmakers.

This event will take place during our Closing Gala on August 16, 2026. Tickets available here.

The Vanguard Legacy Award

The Vanguard Legacy Award honors trailblazers who masterfully blend immense talent with relentless persistence and elite business acumen. It celebrates visionaries who break industry barriers, master their vocation, and create an enduring legacy by leading with authenticity and family.

Sayville natives and industry veterans Paula and Melissa Joan Hart of Hartbreak Films are our inaugural recipients in celebration of their groundbreaking producing partnership. From their Long Island roots to the heights of Hollywood, they have redefined independent and studio television and film. They were chosen for their decades of work building a global brand; bringing laughter, light, and truth into our living rooms through generation-defining characters and vital stories that champion the extraordinary in the ordinary.

Celebrating Our Honorees

The Eternal Voice Award for Historical Contribution

Mary Louise Foster

Pen Name: Louise Forsslund

(March 13, 1873 - May 2, 1910)

The Eternal Voice Award for Historical Contribution honors artists of the past whose creative legacies have transcended time to leave an indelible mark on their community and the arts. It celebrates literary and cinematic trailblazers whose timeless stories continue to resonate, inspire, and illuminate the path for future generations of storytellers.

Turn-of-the-century writer and Sayville native Mary Louise Foster is the inaugural posthumous recipient of this honor. While our community knows her by her given name, Mary Louise Foster, when she began publishing her stories and novels, she chose to use her family's original name, Louise Forsslund, as her professional nom de plume to honor her father and his stories, which heavily inspired her work. Achieving immense national success with her pioneering writings, she used her voice to capture the essence of her era while putting Sayville on the literary map. Importantly, this award brings overdue awareness to her lasting, yet often overlooked, contribution to filmmaking. Although she passed away before seeing her stories reach the silver screen, her acclaimed novel Old Lady No. 31 was adapted into a silent film in 1920, and later reimagined as the 1940 feature film The Captain Is a Lady. She was chosen for this honor to resurrect a brilliantly forged local legacy and celebrate how her timeless words successfully bridged the gap between literature and cinema.

Celebrating Our Honorees

Director, Baristas vs Billionaires

Mark Mori is an Academy Award-nominated and Emmy Award-winning American documentary filmmaker, television producer and screenwriter of documentary and reality television series and specials. Mori is the president and founder of Single Spark Pictures.

Mark Mori

Inaugural Recipient, The Cinematic Solidarity Award

This award honors documentary filmmakers whose body of work transcends the screen to function as a vital tool for collective empowerment and social change. It stands for the belief that cinema is not merely a reflection of society but a powerful catalyst for action, celebrating artists who demonstrate a relentless dedication to exposing injustice, challenging entrenched power structures, and amplifying the voices of the underrepresented.

We are honoring Mark with this award in recognition of his lifelong commitment to investigative filmmaking. Rooted in Mark's foundational experiences as a steelworker and union activist, he brings an unparalleled, hard-earned authenticity to your craft. Mark's work speaks clearly to broad audiences while revealing the profound human stakes behind complex political and economic systems.

Baristas vs. Billionaires is a natural continuation of Mark's legacy, capturing the deeply American story of a new generation of workers standing up to immense corporate power and fighting for dignity on the job. By honoring Mark, the Sayville International Film Festival recognizes a career dedicated not just to exposing hard truths, but to issuing a cinematic call to action; empowering viewers to realize the profound change they can create when they organize and stand in solidarity.

Mark Mori is one of the most talented and certainly bravest documentary film makers I have ever known. To take on the subject of the Starbucks workers, during a time in our country when unionization is being targeted from every side of the corporate world, qualifies as a clearly brave act to me. There are many good documentaries out there. Mark's film is an important one.

Rick Eberle

Public Relations + Publicity Expert,
Venue Manager & Booking Agent,
Radio/Podcast Host, Musician

With an alt rock flavor that fans of Third Eye Blind or Foo Fighters would dig on one track, to a sugary pop-rock sensibility in the vein of Fountains of Wayne or Barenaked Ladies on another, Rick Eberle has proven himself to be a unique and versatile singer, songwriter and guitarist on both ends of the musical spectrum.

As a BMI affiliated artist, several of Rick's tunes co written with the band Iridesense have been used by Nickelodeon in the past on their shows "Drake & Josh" and "Zoey 101" and were licensed to "iCarly" as well. Influenced by a wide variety of musicians from The Beatles and Elvis Costello, to Gavin DeGraw and Hozier, Eberle consistently delivers hard hitting, powerful riffs interwoven with melodic vocals and insightful, introspective lyrics. Whether in the bands Iridesense or Big Rick Energy, or as a striking soloist - each listen is an aural adventure.

Magnetic Vine offers record label/ film studio marketing services, publicity, social media, and talent management and booking duties for venues, festivals, conventions, TV/radio stations, bands, artists, actors, authors, chefs, sports figures and companies of all kinds. The company has successfully produced and promoted events with the Heavy Metal Hall of Fame, Jeffrey Gaines, Alessi Brothers, Zak Starkey, Trey Songz, Peter Tosh Estate, John Coltrane Home, Sky Katz, Forever in Your Mind, Fun Lovin Criminals, Eddie Money, Ryan Leslie, Ninedays, Push Play and others and festivals that have included appearances by Ed Burns, Hugh Grant, Daniel Baldwin, Brian Dennehy, Paul Sorvino, Susie Essman, Phylicia Rashad, Baz Luhrmann and so many more.

As a record executive, Rick spent time working on online initiatives for Pink, Usher, Outkast, Dido and others at Arista Records in NYC. He then left Manhattan to work in venue management, booking and promotions for The Downtown Concert Venue, presenting artists like Jewel, Fall Out Boy and Maroon 5. Rick has also had a long career in radio, including time at 92.7 WLIR FM and several iterations of 94.3 FM, including 94.3 The Shark where he was instrumental in the initial branding and launch of the station as promotion director. Currently, Rick hosts Rising Stars Radio Monday nights at 9pm EST on 90.3 WHPC FM.

Richard Dean is a product leader and coach with over 15 years of experience across product, business development, and startup delivery. He has built global teams, delivered award-winning products, and specialized in higher education technology, including a student wellbeing app recognized for helping tackle loneliness and isolation. Richard has supported more than 50 startups from idea to launch and scale, including ventures that achieved successful exits. In 2024–2025, he worked within a major international software group before relocating to the United States in 2026. Additionally, he holds a Brazilian Jiu-Jitsu black belt and has spent over a decade coaching sports across the UK and South Asia.

Judges

Liz Lewis, CSA

Liz Lewis, CEO of LLCPC in New York and Los Angeles, has been at the forefront of the casting industry for more than two decades, and continues to be unparalleled in her ability to secure the perfect talent for commercials, film, television, and theater. Forgoing the cookie-cutter approach of larger agencies, Liz runs a venerable casting boutique that hears each clients' needs so the perfect match is found. While she personally has a hand in all of the projects that come through her office, she has cultivated a collaborative team who bring their own diverse talents to the table.

The proof of Liz's talent is in the pudding: she cast the original voices of the EMMY NOMINATED Nickelodeon show, Peter Rabbit, received a 2009 CSA ARTIOS AWARD nomination for OUTSTANDING ACHIEVEMENT IN CASTING for Stormy Weather, a 2008 SLAMDANCE AUDIENCE AWARD for BEST NARRATIVE FILM for The Project, cast the voices for the OSCAR NOMINATED documentary Sound and the Fury, and the NY FILM FESTIVAL OPENER animated short, Knitwits. Additionally, she assembled the original and subsequent line-ups for The Daily Show. In the process she discovered many of the improv and sketch actors that have risen to stardom in the past fifteen years.

Liz is proudly associated with the Casting Society of America, Women's Business Enterprise National Council, Women President Organization, Women in Film and Television, Association of Independent Commercial Producers, and the British Academy of Film and Television.

Winner of the HELLER AWARD for Best Commercial Casting Director

Angela Marie Hutchison

Liz LAngela Marie Hutchinson is known for her work as a writer of A Christmas for Mary (2020), which aired on OWN: Oprah Winfrey Network. Angela appeared as herself in the role of The Poet on FOX's new lip sync show, I Can See Your Voice (2020). She has cast and produced numerous films, including Hollywood Chaos and H.U.S.H. She is also author of the book, Create Your Yes, When You Keep Hearing No, which was originally published by Sourcebooks. The audio version of the book will be released by Penguin Random House Audio on March 16, 2021. She has been married to Arthur Hutchinson since 2004. They have three children and live in Los Angeles.

Mark Myers

Mark Myers is the founder of Los Angeles-based Citizen Skull Productions, established in 2010 with a focus on developing, financing, and producing independent film.

Mark also launched Citizen Skull Management, where he supports talent with a grounded, strategic approach. He is particularly passionate about championing emerging and underrepresented voices, working closely with writers, directors, and actors to bring fresh perspectives to screen.

Mark is currently in preproduction on a sci-fi feature starring Constance Wu and is developing additional projects with Saban and Lionsgate. His recent credits include an unscripted music series for MGM+ and Showtime, Glorious starring J.K. Simmons (Fantasia premiere, now on Shudder), Netflix's Collision, and the Tribeca-premiering pilot In the Cards. He also produced the Emmy-winning documentary Street Gang (Sundance, HBO) and a VICE documentary on WWE star Chyna.

Citizen Skull's films—including Heartthrob, Manson Family Vacation, and Experimenter—are available on Netflix, and its projects have been featured at major festivals such as Sundance, SXSW, Tribeca, Cannes, and more, with television work spanning networks both in the U.S. and internationally.

Daniel Moya

Daniel Moya is a writer, director, producer, and actor from Long Island. After studying at the Lee Strasberg Theater and Film Institute for 10 years, he graduated from the University of Southern California with a degree in Film/Television Production. He is known for 18½ (2021) and Rental (2017). He lives in New York.

Viz-Ability

Viz-Ability is an award winning, résumé-forward initiative celebrating mid-senior level disabled creatives working above and below the line across film, TV, and animation throughout the Greater L.A. area that first premiered at the historic Radford Studio Lot in 2025.

Founded by Caledonia Hanson, Viz-Ability is a volunteer-led initiative dedicated to making the future of Hollywood accessible to everyone.

Built on the belief that opportunities should never be limited by perceived limitations, financial barriers, or lack of access, Viz-Ability uplifts mid-to-senior level filmmakers, animators, and storytellers by showcasing their work through visual representations of their resumes — allowing the work to speak for itself so that there's no excuse not to be hired by those invested in what an individual can bring to the table.

Through advocacy, collaboration, and accessible programming, Viz-Ability is helping shape a more inclusive entertainment industry for the next generation of Visionaries.

SIFF Viz-Ability artists, filmmakers, and writers will be featured at the January 31, 2027 showcase in Los Angeles, CA

SIFF Viz-Ability selections:

The Lost Castle (Director: Alex Lynch)

The Creature (Director: Sebastian DiGirolomo)

Honoring Our Heroes: 9/11

JAMES F. MCGEE, IV

Lieutenant James "Jimmy" McGee dedicated his life to service through various roles in EMS. Before joining the Fire Department of the City of New York (FDNY) in 2007, Lt. McGee worked as a paramedic for Jamaica, Mary Immaculate, and Lenox Hill Hospitals in the NYC 911 voluntary hospital system. Alongside his service within hospital systems, he also served as paramedic with New Hyde Park and North Massapequa Fire Department. In 2014, he was promoted to rank of lieutenant within FDNY and served as an officer with the EMS Special Operations Command before his final assignment at Station 54. Lieutenant McGee was a dedicated member of the emergency response community, who ran towards danger and answered the call on September 11, 2001, during the attacks on the World Trade Center. Lt. McGee worked tirelessly at Ground Zero contributing to response and recovery efforts following the attacks. He was later diagnosed with a World-Trade Center related illness, which he succumbed to on December 12, 2025

STEVEN BERUBE

On February 28, 2024, the FDNY lost another beloved member due to a September 11-related illness with the passing of Captain Steven Berube, a 38-year member of the FDNY. Born on April 8, 1960, Captain Berube was a graduate of Mineola High School's Class of 1978 and attended St. John's University.

He began his fire service involvement as a volunteer with the Mineola Volunteer Fire Department from the late 70s until the early 80s. In December 1985, Steve got the call from the FDNY and was sworn in. After his academy graduation, he was assigned to Engine 222 in Bedford-Stuyvesant, Brooklyn. He spent eight years at "Triple Deuce" before transferring to Ladder 120 "Watkins Street," where he received the knowledge and skill needed to be a valuable part of a truck company. In 1997, Steve was promoted to lieutenant and in 1998 was assigned as a founding member/officer of Ladder 133 in South Jamaica, Queens, where he honed his leadership skills. In 2004, Steve was proudly promoted to captain. In 2006, Ladder 111 "The Nuthouse" in Bedford-Stuyvesant became Captain Berube's final home when he was named its commanding officer. He held that position until his retirement in July of 2023 and had the distinction of being Ladder 111's longest serving company commander.

Captain Berube became a member of the FDNY Incident Management Team after volunteering with the FDNY to head to New Orleans after Hurricane Katrina. He rose to the rank of deputy incident commander with the FDNY team and was also involved with the Southwest Incident Management Team 1. His involvement with both teams brought him to Los Alamos, NM; Prescott, AZ; Buffalo, NY; and Homestead and Panama Beach, FL, to name a few. He was honored to be the lead public information officer for the Granite Mountain Hotshot Memorial in July 2013 honoring the loss of the 19 wildland firefighters who perished fighting the Yarnell Hill Fire near Prescott, Arizona. Steve was proud to be invited to New Zealand in September of 2022 for the New Zealand Fire Department's annual 9/11 Memorial ceremony and Sky Tower stair climb.

Steve was a devoted and loving husband to Beth; father to Matthew, Kyle, and Paige; father-in-law to Ashley; and brother to Jeff and to Glenn, who proudly served with him in the FDNY.

Steve served in the rescue and recovery efforts at Ground Zero on September 11, 2001, and for several months afterwards. In February 2023, he was diagnosed with 9/11-related pancreatic cancer. He passed away in February 2024. He is deeply missed by his family and friends, as well as his FDNY, SWIMT, and New Zealand Fire families.

ROBERT M. KELLY

Robert M. Kelly was a wonderful, loving husband to JoAnna Kelly for 37 years and an amazing father to Veronica, Emery, and son-in-law Jesse. His spirit lives on and continues to grow in his two beautiful granddaughters, Everly Jo and Williamina.

Robert was extremely proud to be a NYC firefighter. He couldn't wait to start. Hired when he was just 23 years old, Robert broke many athletic records at the FDNY Fire Academy. He spent his first seven years in the South Bronx at Engine 71, where he would always stop on his way home and bring us Italian bread from Arthur Avenue. He spent the next nine years in Queens and the remainder of his career at Rescue 5 in Staten Island. After 9/11 and his dedicated work at Ground Zero, he was recruited to work with Rescue 5 because they lost so many brave men. He was honored to be a part of that team and work in their memory. Nothing made Robert happier than helping people and saving lives. No matter where he was, he was always taking care of people and looking out for the underdog. He believed in treating people kindly with fairness, consideration, and respect.

As much as Robert loved being a firefighter, his most beloved role was being a husband and father. Everything he did, he did for us. He was so proud of his family and children's accomplishments. He cherished every minute we spent together creating memories in Disney World, Montauk, and taking drives upstate. He loved nature and the outdoors, camping, and hiking. If he could live outside under the stars, he would. He had a big heart full of love and a warm laugh. He loved to tell dad jokes everywhere we went just to make people smile.

In the last ten years of his life, Robert started studying the Bible and all of Jesus's teachings. His faith was strong, and he spread the word whenever he could. He knew when two people were speaking about Jesus, then Jesus was in the room, and he was in good company. This helped Robert stay positive and present during his sickness. Even in the end, he was taking care of us, making sure we were all okay. He would always remind us to "whisper good words to yourself, because you make them real." On March 31, 2024, Easter Sunday, Robert lost his battle to acute myeloid leukemia.

Robert will be remembered as a loving husband, father, friend, and respected firefighting professional. He will be deeply missed, as he touched many lives with his love, spirit, and good words.
